Introduction

The most common question asked of our strategists is what makes a campaign successful???

Many factors are involved, but unfortunately, we can't help you with them all. If we could, we would! So we decided to do what we could and look at CrowdFundr's campaigns to gather solid data showing what factors successful ones share.

Thanks to our fabulous ConnectionPoint team, who analyzed thousands of campaigns, we have curated a list of the 6 most common success indicators to share!

This toolkit will take you through our findings and give you some actionable steps to apply these indicators to your campaign.

1. Images

Campaigns that add an image are 21% more likely to meet or exceed their goal.

Which of these campaigns are you more likely to contribute to?

1. Images

Anatomy of a Campaign Image

- High-quality
(Dimensions $\geq 1280(w) \times 720(h)$ pixels)
- Bold, contrasting colours
- In-context
(relevant)
- Yours (i.e. not a stock photo)

Subject looking toward the campaign stats,, drawing the eye to it & the 'Preorder' button.

Affirmation, indicating this is a popular creation

2. Videos

Campaigns with videos are 13% more likely to meet or exceed their goal.

These do NOT have to be professionally created, or very long. Simple, candid videos created using a free app, stock music, and images or videos from your mobile device are just as powerful.

Explore these video app options:

- Animoto
- Lumen5

*These apps are free if you don't mind their watermark on your video

Explore these campaigns' videos:

- Being of Sound Mind by Jay Stephens
- NASA Posters by Robert Wilson IV
- Tales of the Black Devil by Zachariah Roane

2. Videos

Best practices

- 1-3 minutes maximum
- Be creative! You're creators, after all!
- Strong beginning – this is the same principle as your story; an opening 'hook' will keep the viewer interested beyond the first few seconds
- Ensure the most important details of your core story elements are included (view these on page 21 of our Strategy Toolkit), especially the values of your creation and what makes it unique.
- Define your tone (energetic, sentimental, etc.) and stick to it
- Simplify your link and make it the prominent call-to-action at the end

3. Custom Contribution Amounts

Campaigns that set custom contribution amounts are 12% more likely to meet or exceed their goal.

Some supporters won't claim a reward, they'll simply want to help you by contributing to the overall campaign. CrowdFundr campaign owners can customize the contribution amounts supporters see when they click the 'Contribute' button. Creative descriptions for each amount are also an option, which can add whimsy, humour, and even further understanding into your non-monetary goals for the campaign.

Supporters will always have the option to choose their own amount, however, we can subtly encourage larger contributions by getting clever with what they see first.

CrowdFundr does have defaults already set (next page), but you - the campaign owner - should tailor these amounts to fit your specific needs, campaign tone, and personality.

3. Custom Contribution Amounts

Your contribution (in CAD)

$20 $60 $120 $180 $360

3. Custom Contribution Amounts

Steps to choose your best options for amount

1. What is your current average contribution? (Example: $50 USD)
2. Add 10% ($55 USD)
3. Make that your second and pre-selected (green) option
4. Subtract 30-40% from that amount ($$55 - 35\% = \text{approx. } \35)
5. Make that your first option
6. Double your pre-selected option ($$55 \times 2 = \110)
7. Make that your third option
8. Double again and make that your last option ($$110 \times 2 = \220)
9. Feel free to 'round' out these numbers. For our example, we would suggest choosing $30, $55, $100, $200
10. If you find yourself without a small, nominal amount for those supporters who want to help but don't have too much to give, consider putting one in there. With our example, that would be around the $10 mark.

3. Custom Contribution Amounts

Steps to choose your best options for amount

- If you do not know your average contribution, or are new to crowdfunding, aim for the cost of your most-popular (or expected to be most popular) reward
- ‘Other’ will always be an option
- The goal is to make the lower amounts close enough to your target pre-selected (green) amount that it doesn’t seem like too much more to go with the pre-selected one
- You also want to ensure the higher amounts are not prohibitively high
- If you have data for your top 3-4 contribution amounts, choose those (or go 10% higher on each)!

3. Custom Contribution Amounts

Steps to choose your best descriptive options

- Under your 'Funding & deadline' menu, you'll see the option to change your default amounts from 'Basic' to 'Descriptive':

- Have fun with these! Buy me a beer, feed my dog, one gram of motivation, bring [this character] to life, fund one meditation class to save my sanity...

The sky's the limit here!

4. The 'Contribute' Button

Campaigns that customise their 'Contribute' button are 22% more likely to meet or exceed their goal.

This one surprised us!

Perhaps there are other factors at play, here, that we can't yet decipher. However, there is one thing that rings true: creativity is a massive success factor.

Suggestions

There are so many possibilities here, depending on what your campaign is about. Get creative, use action words, and try to land on a word or phrase that highlights your project. Here are some examples we've seen over the years:

20 character limit (including spaces)

- Pre-order
- Back this project
- Support us/me!
- Spread some love
- Send a smile
- Get your/a _____

- Try it out!
- Step Inside...
- Bring [character/project] to life
- Come forward, traveller
- Join me!

- Hop to it!
- Bring joy to _____
- Spring to action
- Let's get 'kraken'!
- Let's go!
- CLICK ME!

5. Timing

Campaigns that receive their first payment within a day of starting are 6% more likely to meet or exceed their goal.

Essentially, the longer it takes to receive the first payment, the less successful campaigns are. We want to avoid situations like this:

Long-running campaigns with zero-to-minimal contributions don't inspire confidence!

Don't feel bad, this is a demo campaign!

5. Timing

There are two ways to avoid staying on '0' for too long:

1. Target your 'top tier' audience first. These are people you know are likely to contribute: friends, family, colleagues, etc. Ask them to contribute before your major social media and email launch so when your average supporter sees the campaign, they see multiple contributions within the first day of launch. This is an example of 'social proof', which suggests that humans are more likely to do something when they see others doing it first!
2. Set a target launch date and stick to that date! Our data also shows that the longer the time between campaign creation and launch, the less successful the campaign. This hints that enthusiasm wanes, and leaving too much time might result in rushing through prep and customization. Then, a less-than-ready (and therefore less-likely-to-be-successful) campaign is launched. The next two pages include a checklist and timeline from our Campaign Strategy Guide that may help you with your preparation.

5. Timing

Campaign Checklist

- Create your campaign. Don't focus on getting everything perfect at this stage, you can edit everything before you launch. Note: you cannot change between AON or KIA after the campaign has been launched.
- Write down your launch date here and work towards that date: _____
- Select the right layout for your campaign.
- Craft your campaign's story.
- Upload your campaign video, plus any additional photos or videos to make your page visually appealing.
- Set up sub-campaigns (if applicable)
- Ensure your payment processor (PayPal and/or Stripe) is connected to your account.
- Customise your email receipt that will be sent to your supporters when their contribution is completed.
- On launch day, double-check everything on your campaign, and hit "Launch".

5. Timing

Timeline

Due date(s)	Task	Owner
	Create initial campaign layout
	Complete video/picture edits and upload
	Set up Rewards
	Complete campaign story
	Pre-launch/launch campaign
	First social media share
	First update
	Additional social media shares
	Change campaign to 'Finished' once goal or deadline is reached
	Space for additional key tasks and dates

6. Updates

Campaigns that produce at least 1 update
are 1% more likely to meet or exceed their goal.

Campaigns that produce at least 2 updates
are 20% more likely to meet or exceed their goal.

Campaigns that produce at least 3 updates
are 33% more likely to meet or exceed their goal.

This one did NOT surprise us. The crowdfunding world has always known updates bring success (for some outside proof, see this article). Not only are you inviting supporters back to your campaign to possibly donate more, you are also providing more content for yourself and your supporters to share and entice more people to the campaign!

The trend doesn't continue forever... it starts to flatten out after 3 updates, then plateaus around 10. However, the message is clear: updates bring success. The next page is a table from our Campaign Promotion Toolkit to help you plan out your updates in advance, hopefully taking some work and stress off your plate.
